Introduction

“Why she does not want to be my girlfriend/partner/wife?” – a question that a lot of men don’t have an answer to.

Doesn’t matter, whether you’re in a relationship or a going to be in a relationship with a woman, there are some things that she doesn’t like about you. Things she might not say, but they exist.

Obviously, these are not those ugly habits you have like not cleaning your car, not grooming properly, your bad breath, etc. It is good to have these little things in check, but there are more important things than that.

Chances are, you are not aware of them.

Women are emotional creatures. You can never assume exactly what your woman is thinking about you. She might be finding ways to exit the relationship while you are dreaming about having a family.

As long as she feels special to have you, everything is good. But, as soon as some other guy starts hitting on her, someone better than you, who can do things you can’t, or he is not doing what she doesn’t like about you, she will abandon you. No matter how good of a relationship you two have, it is going to happen.

And that’s the truth.

Treat her the way she wants be treated, which is what this eBook is all about. Here are three of the most important and logical reasons I’ve found that makes a woman abandon a man.

Let’s take a look at each:

1. You're too needy

If you need her, she doesn't want you – simple as that.

These days, many of the men's population becomes terrified when it comes to approaching and talking to women. He is always available, overly caring, compliments on her beauty a lot, apologizes even if it's her fault, and makes her his mission.

This needy guy regularly checks if she's online or not, his texts generally have more amount of words than hers, he always need to know if she had her dinner, and what not.

In simple words, he is overly desperate.

He cares a lot. He puts her on a pedestal and treats her like a goddess. And what's even worse? He expects love as much he does to her.

When she starts ignoring him and makes efforts in getting rid of him (because of this neediness), he starts to freak out. He can do anything, but not breakup with her, where the relationship has already ended for her.

If you remember when I said, women like to chase. They want men who are not easily available, who are not easy to get committed with.

Those men for whom women will fight each other to have a chance to hook up with. Mysterious and fearless nature of these men make them irresistible.

Be like him. He is highly confident, isn't afraid of losing women, always puts himself first, loves himself before he loves her, is not desperate, treats humans as humans, and is good at being a man.

Moreover, he does not talk about himself and prefers to keep his personal life to himself. He is not always seen in public because being always available devalues him.

He maintains his reputation which makes other women interested, even in a relationship.

2. You're not exciting

It is a fact that women like men who are funny and interesting.

If you're a boring and serious type of guy, she will not stick for long. The reason being their emotional mind. They want to be with a man with a good sense of humor, talk interesting and just makes them feel good.

At the same time, don't be someone who is always on, which is annoying. Don't be the one who is trying too hard to make her laugh. It doesn't work.

Even if you're not a funny guy, you're good if you can keep her interested and engaged in the conversation. Jokers don't usually make it too far.

Do something unexpected, women love that. Bring twists and turns, like they do in a movie to keep the viewers interested. Surprise her, secretly plan things, get a raise, a new house or even cooking something can keep the conversation excited.

For example, three-fourth of what you text should be fun, exciting and non-serious. Try to reply her at least after ten minutes. Be more concise, avoid abbreviations, use less emoji faces, exclamation marks and keep your grammar in check.

Be interesting in public. Do not discourage other women from flirting with you. Women don't admit but their jealousy excites them because no girl wants a man that no other women wants. This instantly excites her sexually.

Keep her guessing and never settle her mind. Don't get too personal, never tell everything about you, doesn't matter how old your relationship is.

Women usually ask questions that they don't want direct answers to. It's her chase that she wants to know what you're thinking, but it becomes boring as soon as she knows exactly how you feel.

Connect with her emotions like no other man can ever do to her. Dive deeper into the ocean of her emotions and roam. Employ all of senses, grab her hand and take her on an infinitely long adventure. Be incredibly playful and set her heart on fire.

That's when she craves to have a man like you.

3. You're not powerful enough

A man must be dominant over his woman, so she submits herself to him.

A real woman wants to be with a man of power, and a great leader. Women are loyal to a man's power. She will submit when she finds a man of power with a stronger frame than hers.

She does not want a weak man who is not self-confident, not bold enough to touch her on the first date, is often apologetic and not a provider.

A highly confident, strong man with multiple strengths and skills is what she wants.

He can't be weak and lose his state control. Emotional forces like crying, yelling, etc., can't ever manipulate him. She might bring storms, but he is the one who has to shelter.

If a woman can change him, she will have mastery over him, which ultimately leads to the destruction of their relationship. Her control over him can destroy him, including herself.

Don't play by her rules. She will try doing it, but doesn't want in reality. Be strong, solid, unshakeable and immovable, someone she can grasp like a pillar to steady herself.

A man of power makes his mission his priority, not his woman. Your woman is there to come along the way to achieving your mission.

Turn off the part of your brain that recognizes how beautiful and gorgeous she is. Men usually lose their mind and become powerless when they see an attractive woman and instantly puts them on a pedestal.

Make yourself the biggest deal, not her. If you don't value yourself, she will not value you. Even if you are not the best man she can have, your respect and self-confidence will make her want you more.

Speak less than her, reply fewer words, show lesser affection, be calm, have patience and ultimately establish a higher value, making her chase you more.

Become someone who she'd love to submit, irrespective of who she is.
